

YHWH ROSH CHODESH 2023

Rosh Chodesh is observed on the sunset of the evening in which the first crescent of the New Moon appears according to the Scriptural command in Bamidbar (Numbers) 10:10. It is during the appearance of the first crescent (at the end) of the moon and not the full moon that marks the first day of the new month. The dates of each Rosh Chodesh in each month are highlighted in LIGHT PURPLE. And DARK PURPLE is for those who observe at this phase.

This Calendar is based on data from StarDate web site (<https://stardate.org/nightsky/moon>).

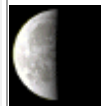

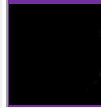

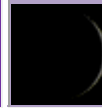

The first day of the first Month of the Scriptural New Year according to Shemoth (Exodus) 12:2 is Abib (the 1st Month) also known as Nisan. Judah (Jews) observes the 1st of Tishri as their New Year. The Hebrew month appears alongside its corresponding Gregorian month. To observe the Rosh Chodesh according to the customs and traditions of Yisra'el (Israel) download a copy of the NO MANS ZONE Siddur Moedim the Believers Hebrew Feasts Companion and see section on Birkat haChodesh.

For a short format of Rosh Chodesh see last page.

Barukh haba b'shaym יהוה, Halleluyah! Praised is He who comes in the name of YHWH!
