Preface

The most incredible love and romance story was ever written has never been explained. We have heard pieces of it in every faith and culture, but it is never the complete story. You will listen to the whole story for the first time in this book.

| The knowledge in this book is your divine heritage. It belongs to you and your children, a gift from on High reserved for the Time to Come, the Olam Haba. |

It comes to you wrapped up in a bouquet of multiple and transcendent truths from Seven Kingdom epochs that spans the Universe. Each flower in the bouquet is a composition of what was, what is, and is to come that shall unfold like a flower hidden in the darkness and revealed in the light. The conclusion of this incredible story is the restoration of the Malchut haShamayim (the Kingdom of Heaven) on Earth. In this Supreme Plan, we are majestic angelic beings, creations of the Third Kingdom. The first Angel, the Supreme Elohim created, is Yahu, the Morning Star, the darling of Heaven.

The angelic intelligence we all are first began as a meniscal spark that flamed into a candle in the womb of darkness, clothed in a body of invisible light all by the Word of Elohim. This is the Alef, the ET, the Alpha Yochanan (John) reveals to us;

My Beloved

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with the Supreme Elohim, and the Word was Elohim" Yochanan Alef (First John) 1:1.

The light took on the divine's appearance; untouched by its surroundings' forces; it began to live and speak. Masculine in character, it had a face and a voice, and the first word He spoke was;

ABBA! אבא

At hearing those words, Elohim leaped with a fire of joy and exclaimed all at once the letters of the living Alphabet - Ivrit/Hebrew. Flames of fire tingled and danced around the Alphabet, and sparks of lightning illuminated the darkness; for the first time in the Universe, there is a feeling of exuberant joy. The happiness and wonder we brought to the One who made us is indescribable.

Before us, the Supreme had no other intelligence to share His joy with His creation, only Himself, but now before His Almighty presence stood a beautiful being in the likeness of a man, timid and meek. Uncertain of how he appeared, he looked around? Elohim threw His arms around him and said;

DODI! דודי

Dodi

Am I Dodi? He asked in bewilderment. For the very first time, the Creator was lost for a name. He named all the galaxies, planets, forces, and phenomena in the Universe, yet He did not know what to call His first intelligent creation. So He began by calling him Dodi until such a time that He discovered his innate character then He so named him, but that uncertainty was not repeated in His subsequent creations. He named them all as is His inalienable right. Dodi thus later became Yahu, or Yah, whom we understand is Yeshua (Jesus) the man.

However, Dodi's name stuck to Yeshua, and it became His intimate name by which the Supreme would call upon Him just as a loving husband would call his wife my darling although she has a personal name. As Yeshua learned of His father's character, He too named Elohim Dodi just as a husband and wife would call each other darling.

“While still speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them. And behold, a (bat) kol (voice) out of the cloud said: This is My beloved (Ben Dodi) Son, with whom I am well pleased. Hear you Him” Mattityahu (Mathew) 17:5.

The word Dodi occurs 31 times in the Hebrew Scriptures (TaNaK) and 22 times in the Renewed Covenant (Brit Chadashah). The name appears 29 times in the Song of Songs. It is universally translated as BELOVED or MY BELOVED. The online Merriam Webster Dictionary (1828) defines the word as very much loved: dearly loved. I like how the Cambridge dictionary defines the phrase beloved as someone you love and with whom you have a romantic relationship. Some common Synonyms that describe the word; cherished, darling, dear, fair-aired, favored, favorite, fond, loved, pet, precious, special, sweet, and sweetheart.

More often in the Hebrew Scriptures, Dodi describes Elohim's intimate relationship and His people Yisra'el as beautifully captured in the Shir Hashirim (Song of Songs). In the Brit Chadashah (Renewed Covenant), it represents Yeshua's relationship with His bride Yisra'el. A relationship that is still spiritually unconsummated because we have not yet married the groom, Dodi.

My task in this book as a Kohen (Priest) of YHWH is to prepare you for this glorious day, and we do not have the luxury of another Century; we are at the end of the age. The Millennium event is set to be performed in our time in the City of the New Yerushalem, and I am blessed you are invited.

Kohen Theodore Meredith

Introduction

Let me start by giving you the bigger picture your Creator sees every day.

The Universe is a limitless place; its vastness cannot be measured and mapped in a million lifetimes. Intelligent life forms are far in between the myriads of solar systems and galaxies, and if one traveled its connecting highways at the speed of light, loneliness would quickly set in like concrete. The desire to live and exist fades away when you are lost and alone in the vastness of space. Man and Angel share the same heritage - this infinite Universe.

Elohim said to 'Adam, it is not good for a man to be alone,' and He did not mean just man and here on Earth. Elohim knows we need to be in a love and romance relationship to maintain the fire and will to exist in this vast Universe.

Angels and man were created in pairs, as was everything else in the Universe. We are born to find our other half that was separated from you in a time before time. It is the feeling of romance that draws or drives you to find your other half.

My Beloved

Angels work in pairs and are never alone because of the enormity of the Universe and their limited population. Humanity is no different.

Elohim contemplated the magnitude of what He had made and created powerful forces that hold the Universe together and make it possible for life to exist. Scientists understand these physical forces to be; Gravity, Electron Magnetism, Weak Nuclear, Strong Nuclear, Dark Energy, and Light Energy. Trust me; there is no joy in these forces.

What brought joy to the Master is what He made next? In the Spiritual Universe, seven omniscient forces work in unity to maintain life in the Universe and give it purpose; Elohim, Angels, Love, Government, Dominion, Torah, and Kingdom. Human beings and every living thing come under Kingdom. But something important is missing from the list. This thing's presence is indispensable to everything working in harmony and in shalom. It is the sweetness of Romance.

Notice Romance is not on the list because it is present in all forces; it is the oil and glue that frees and holds everything together - the unseen chemistry that flows through everything. We have called it by many names Gia, Ying and Yang, Yetza tov and ra, the Tao, the Force, Peace, Love, Life, Joy, and Happiness. Romance at its finest is Elohim personified in the Messiah.

Dodi

Now let me remind you of the smaller picture we see every day.

We see people being born, passing through life stages; infancy, childhood, adolescence, adulthood, and death. In that process of life, everywhere the same, we see happiness and suffering. We see good and evil. We see peace and war. We see abundance and poverty. We see rich and poor. We see victory and defeat. We see nature and man-made. The contrasts are many, but they all speak of one thing our mortal existence here on Earth - this reality we call human life.

This is not how Elohim sees us. Really!

We are Elohim's beloved, and we are Yisra'el, a Prince of the realm who is destined to rule this World and populate the Universe. We have a history that goes back further than humankind. We have a relationship with the Divine that was born and forged in the stars. A romance I can hardly wait to explain.

Before you pass through this Introduction, I need to make sure you understand this book's intent if any of it is to make sense. I know we all have our beliefs on how you have a relationship with Elohim. Many believers also don't think there is anything more after their conversion or salvation experience. Some dare not venture beyond the knowledge of their religion. In their opinion, this is a taboo subject.

My Beloved

I respect your faith, and I seek not to change it. Therefore you can relax; this book has no religious agenda. It is written for the person who has come to that place of going no further with their relationship or understanding of Elohim, and I care not what you call Him or your religion. I was at this place many years ago when I was at the height of my religious experience, yet sadly it was dry and empty.

This way requires that you be exhausted from your search and experience for any of this to make sense. If you have not come to that point, you are not ready for this book's knowledge. Sorry!

We have come full-circle in our human journey, and we are at the threshold of returning to where we came from and shedding this body of flesh forever. We are returning to a time when you always loved Elohim, and He has always loved you, and to be away from Him was like torture. This is the final doorway, the ultimate dimension, and there is nothing beyond this revelation.

This is a very intimate topic - close to Elohim's person and heart. I am letting you into a dimension and experience of the Ruach HaKodesh that is reserved for Malakim (Angels) and Olam haba (the World to come). There are four parts to this narration.

The First Part: The Beginning explains the awe of our Universe, our beginning, and our destiny in it.

Dodi

The Second Part: The Courting unfolds the story of our relationship and first marriage to YHWH!

The Third Part: The Marriage reveals the bride, the ceremony, and our second marriage to Elohim.

The Fourth and Final Part: The Romance shows how to keep the relationship alive; it explains how Elohim romances us and how to romance YHWH.

I wrote this poem for my Love, which is in the Book WildFire, when He inspired me some years ago to look in the direction of romance and love poetry in my quest to draw near to Him. This is how the idea of this book started when I discovered that Elohim is the Poet of all poets and the King of Romance.

Mi Chamokhah (Who is like you)

Mi Chamokhah Who is like You,
Truly Who is like You, my Love,
O virgin daughter of Yupiter,
How galaxies adore Thee,
Field of lights in heavenly delights,
Sagittarius bay of young stars,
Centre of the Milky Way galaxy,
Floating in endless space,
A black hole in the sea of stars,
Everything in the perfect place,
I watch Your marvelous display,
Raptured by Your creation,
I fall into breathless into Your arms,
Awed by what I see,
Truly who is like You, my Love,
Who can ride the tail of a comet,
Who can leap the galaxies
in the twinkling of an eye,
Strong, beautiful, and handsome.
Forever wise and just, infinitely good,
Generous and forgiving,
Loving and a lover,
Truly Who is like You, my Love.

The Beginning

My Beloved

The Awe

“Our observable universe is home to at least two trillion different and individual galaxies which together contain more stars than there are grains of sand on the entire earth.”

Dodi

Shalom Beloved.

Our story begins in the stars. The awe of the Universe that is before us - the ultimate goal of our existence, and where this romance with Elohim will one day soon culminate. This journey has a glorious end from what was an infinitesimal beginning. I will piece by piece stitch this story together so that you may see the majesty and beauty of what Elohim sees every day - the bigger picture. The astronomical facts presented here have come to us in just the last 20 years, but most of us have never sat down and pondered on these discoveries' magnitude and, from it, put the puzzle together. I will try and avoid the astronomical jargon and formulas and keep it on layman's terms so that even I can understand it.

The Universe is measured in light-years. A light-year is 9.461 trillion Kilometers. To give you an idea of how long it will take to travel a light year. Let's start with the closest star to us, Alpha Centauri, which is 4.24 light-years away. It does not sound much of a distance until you compare that distance to the fastest traveling spaceship we have - Voyager One. At its present speed of 17km/second or 1020km/minute, it will take Voyager One over 70,000 years to reach Alpha Centauri. At this speed, Voyager will not even break out of our solar system until 30,000 years. Even if we built another spaceship at double the speed to reduce the time frame, space travel is just entirely not realistic. I am glad to see some billionaire space mavericks are finally waking up to space travel's austere limitation.

What is truly the wonder is the sheer enormity of what is beyond our solar system. A Wonder of Wonders!

Once we break out of our solar system, we enter into our interstellar neighborhood, the Orion Spur, where our Sun and the solar system are 26,000 light-years from the galactic center of our Galaxy. The Orion Spur exists inside two massive spiral arms called Scutum Centaurus and Perceus, which spans over 100,000 light-years from end to end. Our galaxy is called the Milky Way because it appears as a milky band of light in the sky when you see it in a dark area. Just as the Earth goes around the Sun, the Sun goes around the Milky Way center.

A galaxy is a large group of stars, gas, and dust bound together by gravity. They come in various shapes and sizes, and there is an unknown number of galaxies in the Universe. Interestingly it takes our solar system 225 million years to orbit the galactic center, a supermassive black hole called Sagittarius A Star where ten million stars are known to orbit within a single light-year of the galactic center. The center of our galaxy is engulfed in pure light where there is no day or night possible for any planet located in that region - a clear description of Heaven. For more on this, see our Book 21 Days of Enlightenment.

Current estimates suggest that there are over 600 billion stars and over a trillion planets inside of our galaxy alone because the number of planets always outweigh stars in a solar system. For example, there are nine planets in our system to our sun. We can only see with the naked eye at night 5,000 of these stars. Our present technology cannot determine if any of these planets have life forms and are inhabitable. I disagree. My understanding from Elohim is that many of these planets have living beings who are similar to us and atmospheres close to Earth. More on this later.

The Milky Way galaxy is just part of a local group of 54 galaxies that span 10 million light-years across. If we zoom out even further, we can see the Virgo Supercluster of galaxies consisting of 100 groups of galaxies. Our local group is just a tiny segment, and the distance is 110 million light-years across. This is an astronomical number, but that is nothing compared to what is beyond that. The Virgo Supercluster is a tiny lobe of the great Liniakia Supercluster. The enormous structure that is the home to our galaxy and 100,000 other galaxies. The distance from one side to the other is a mind numbing 520 million light-years. But from even there, if we zoom out further to the end of the observable Universe, we see that the Liniakia

Supercluster is just a tiny and insignificant part of everything.

Our observable Universe is home to at least two trillion different and individual galaxies, which together contain more stars than there are grains of sand on the entire Earth. Just try imagining that for a moment, please?

The distance from any side of the Universe to the other is 46.5 billion light-years, which means that the entire width is whopping 93 billion light-years across. That is the physical limit of what we can see with our present instruments.

What is genuinely mind numbing is what lies beyond the 93 Billion light year limit? The rest of the Universe outside of this may be vastly more massive and more fantastic than what we can ever imagine. We simply do not know what is out there because the light from these incredibly distant places has not yet had enough time in the Universe's history to reach us, and the light from some places may never reach us at all because some parts of the Universe is expanding at a rate faster than the speed of light. That means that the light from these places will never in an infinite amount of time reach Earth. Meaning that even if humanity is eternal and exists forever, there will still be parts of the Universe we will never know about or ever see. Alas! Don't despair; we will see everything because the stars are not there just to decorate your evening sky. There is more.

What we can see of the observable Universe is only a fraction of what is out there. To see it, we must turn to mathematics. Please excuse the technical jargon this once as it is necessary. According to the theory of cosmic inflation that was proposed by Alexei Starobinsky, Alan Guth, and Andrei Linde if it is assumed that cosmic inflation began 10^{-37} second after the Big Bang with the assumption that the size of the Universe before inflation began was equal to its age times the speed of light this would seem to suggest that the present-day the entire Universe is 150 sextillion times larger than the observable Universe. That is a number with 22 zeros after it! Just absolutely mind-boggling! This is equivalent to someone thinking that the observable Universe was the size of a lightbulb and then later discovers the lightbulb is inside a place of the Earth's size.

At this point, we should be saying WOW WOW WOW!

In a nutshell, the Universe is infinite with trillion upon trillions upon trillions of galaxies. Still, surprisingly the wonder does not end at infinity because of the next monumental discovery. What is even more astounding is that 95 percent of the Universe is invisible? This discovery is so amazing that it has yet to trickle into most working scientists' consciousness: everything science has been studying these past 350 years is a minor contaminant of the Universe. Only about 4.9% of the mass-energy of the Universe is atoms: the kind of stuff you, me, the stars, and galaxies are made of, and, of that, only half has been spotted with telescopes. About 26.8% of cosmic mass-energy is invisible dark matter, revealed because it tugs with its gravity on the visible stuff.

Candidates for what makes up dark matter include hitherto unknown subatomic particles and black holes made in the Big Bang. But, in addition to dark matter, there is dark energy, accounting for 68.3% of the mass-energy of the Universe that is almost two-thirds of the mass-energy of the Universe. It's invisible, fills all of space, and is accelerating cosmic expansion. It is the repulsive gravity of this dark energy that is accelerating cosmic expansion. School science is, therefore, behind the times in saying that gravity sucks. In most of the Universe, it blows! And our best theory - quantum theory - overestimates its energy density by a factor of one, followed by 120 zeroes!

This is a condensed summary of what Science, particularly Astronomy and Cosmology, knows up to this point. Still, more amazing discoveries are on the horizon when they launch the James Webb Space Telescope because there is so much more we don't know. However, what we know now is enough to piece the big picture together, and I will get to this soon. Yet, we have this impossible dream that we will invent a Warp drive one day like in the series Star Trek and travel the speed of light and beyond. It is an idea based on fiction and not science.

Dodi

The fact is, it is the physical laws of matter, and the Universe makes it impossible for a human being to travel at the speed of light or beyond because at the speed of light, everything is converted to pure energy. No flesh or machine can enter that state even in a capsule encased in light. Further still, we can never physically travel our solar system alone, in our earth years. The average human being lives only 70 years, and if we manage to stretch that to 200 years, it is still never possible.

Please, let's be real for a change! This Universe was never created for a Homo sapiens species, but the Earth was.

But there is fantastic news ahead of you. Stay tuned!

My Beloved

The Void

“Alas! The Creator permitted a void in His perfect character that had no need of anything - a desire. That desire was a relationship.”

Dodi

Shalom Beloved.

King Dawid wrote, “The heavens declare the glory of Elohim, and the firmament shows His handiwork” Tehillim (Psalms) 19:1. Imagine what David would have said if he had our information. Woe is me!

The glaring truth is we live in a Universe that is disproportionate to our human reality, and we need to understand why it was made infinite and glorious?

An obvious question begets us, why all this awe before us in the heavens? Was it put there to tease us or humble us or perhaps shame us? Who knows the mind that made it all? I don't, and we can't, but we can try to understand Him! Tell me what you wouldn't do to impress the one you love.

You see, our love story did not begin from the creation and the fall of Adam. It started in eternity with the angels. The Universe was created for them. Angels do not have bodies made from physical matter. They are made from light and anti-matter. The invisible stuff we learned earlier called dark energy, which is a mixture of lightning, fire, water, and wind inferred in these passages in the Hebrew scriptures; Yeshayahu (Isaiah) 11:15; Yechezkel (Ezekiel) 13:13 and, Daniyel (Daniel) 10:6. Angels are immaterial, which means the physical laws of the Universe do not bound them.

In the realm of the invisible, time and distance is not a factor. An angel can travel in a craft like the one described in Yechezkel (Ezekiel) 1:1-48 from one Galaxy to the next in a few days/weeks, and that is if they know where they are going and if they are permitted in that space. Yes, some parts of the Universe are off-limits to certain classes of angels, and not all regions of the Universe have maps. You can get seriously lost if you don't know where you are going. The galaxies are the playground of angels and have been for millions of years. I have a lot to narrate here, so I will unravel how it all started with the Creator. So please sit back and let me unfold Eternity before your eyes as it was explained to me.

It began when the All Parent, En Sof (the Tao) brought forth the Supreme Elohim, the Father who has no beginning - the I AM that I AM, the Alef Lamed (EL) (Who is also called El Shaddai (The All-Sufficient One), El Elyon (The Mighty One), Ha-Yotzer (The Creator). Who is uncreated and without out form. The Universe at that stage was formless - a void/womb of infinite possibilities that existed as dark energy and anti-matter. The Supreme Elohim, out of the endless void, created matter - atoms, molecules, elements, and energy. With this, Elohim created the stars, the planets, the solar systems, the phenomena, the forces, and the signs, forming trillions of individual galaxies.

This was the First Kingdom - Malchut Alef.

Time was not a factor. Intelligent Life was not yet in the Universe. There were no angels or living things: just light, matter, and anti-matter in the perfect arrangement and harmony. Elohim could have stopped there as what He had created was very good. Sadly, the Supreme Elohim did not derive any lasting pleasure from the beauty and vastness of what He had created. It was lifeless without joy! There was no one to share what Elohim had created. Even so, He knew all along what He must do and what was going to happen when He allowed it.

Alas! The Creator permitted a void in His perfect character that had no need of anything - a desire. That desire was a relationship.

To embody this idea, He required a vessel to house a living intelligence separate from His person but would be like Him possessing the freedom to choose. By the way, EL is not a Him or a Her in character or form. No gender is intended in the use of the pronoun He. It is just a convenience in literature.

The Supreme Elohim knew what He must do to fill the void in His omniscient and omnipotent character. He must manifest the desire. Thus Elohim thought and spoke into being sounds that formed into letters - the vessels. The letters He chose from the Hebrew Alphabet was YHWH. At first, they were ONE. Then

My Beloved

He split them into individual sounds. These letters became a Being of pure Light - The Elohim and were formed in pairs HV and HY. They were the first Angels He created.

This was the Second Kingdom - Malchut Bet.

They came forth like children who did not need a father or mother - they are complete. The Elohim have all the attributes of a perfect character and possess life-giving gifts. They are intelligent, wise, loyal, benevolent, patient, loving, and friendly, and so forth. And they possess the creative power of the Supreme Elohim. But more than this, they were individual persons with who Elohim could have a conversation and relationship - The manifestation of the Supreme Elohim's desire. In the teaching of the Zohar (a prized Jewish text), it says, in the beginning, the unmentionable aspect of Elohim (Ensof) created Elohim. In the Hebrew of Genesis One, it reads in the literal sense, 'The Beginning Elohim was created.' We instead chose to interpret it in the usual sense.

The Supreme Elohim knew there was a risk in bringing forth the YHWH that they too would have the urge to create as He had done and desire a Kingdom of their creation. He had duplicated His character into them, and they have the free will to choose their pathway - good or bad - the essence of free love. Further, still, He had brought into existence the "possibility" that they could reject and rebel against Him - the essence of evil. To top it off, Elohim gave them special gifts because, by nature, the Supreme Elohim is a giver; everything He does is to give, and everything He creates gives. The Elohim are like their Creator - GIVERS. They desire to create, and each with their special gift creates wonders. At the top of that list of wonders they create are the angels.

Together with the Father, the Elohim create different classes of angels who together form - the Malakim. Trillions of the malakim are created from sparks of light and anti-matter. They look like the first Angels YHWH, but they are not equal to them. Some are equipped and appointed as Designers, Architects, Scientists, Biologists, Geologists, Physicists, Doctors, Managers, Helpers, Musicians, and Priests, and so forth. They are the second race of living beings in the Universe;

The Third Kingdom is formed - Malchut Gimmel.

The YHWH become the Supreme Council of the Universe, and they form numerous councils beneath them to spread life, organize life, and manage life. Basically, to create and maintain law and order in the Universe. There is no room here to cover this development; the plan is explained in our book Yom YHWH which outlines the present, past, and future of our Universe. A must-read for the truth seeker!

However, the urge to create did not stop with the Elohim; the angels wanted to create beings like themselves who are intelligent, wise, and so forth, but they did not possess the gifts to create from light as the Elohim. What they have that is in plentiful supply in the Universe is physical matter. They make living things from matter and create biological life - a wonder in itself. Hundreds of billions of life forms and varieties are created and are still growing.

The Fourth Kingdom is formed - Malchut Dalet.

The crown of this creation is the Homosapien - man. This is not you, and I will get to that soon. Millions of years had passed, and life forms were distributed and planted in the Universe, among which was Homosapien man. Many other intelligent life forms were also created who have free will. Trillions of galaxies were planted with varieties of life forms and intelligent life, and the process continues because the Universe is in constant expansion.

Evil was not yet in the Universe, but its potential existed and its future outcome known to the Supreme Elohim. The evil inclination, "the dark side," is there in all angels, and billions of them ventured into the unknown. I will take up their story in the next heading. Angels have a greater capacity to love and hate than we do, but their reservoir of knowledge and wisdom holds them back. If you thought that some human beings are fun and loving, wait till you meet angels. They are the epitome of fun and love. But when they are serious and occupied, they work and love to work in teams. They can control their emotions and concentrate far more than we can. They are dedicated and loyal to their captains. Their dedication to worship of the supreme is nothing short of legendary. They love El and the YHWH. But with many, this was not always the case. You have heard of Murphy's Law right, "Anything that can go wrong will go wrong" - well, the unimaginable happened - to be continued in the next chapter.

Just to put things in perspective, let me summarize the Order of Appearances;

- The All Parent, En Sof (the Tao) - uncreated.
- The Supreme Elohim* - uncreated.
- The Universe - created.
- The YHWH (Elohim*) - The Supreme Council.
- Angels - the Malakim.
- The Councils.
- Living things.
- Homo sapiens.

*The word Elohim in Hebrew applies to both the Supreme and to other beings who exhibit Elohim's nature. For example, Moses is called Elohim in the Scripture (Shemoth (Exodus) 4:16, 7:1, 21:6, 22-9), and Yeshua is also called Elohim (Tehillim (Psalm) 45:6; Zechariah (Zecharyah) 12:8-10; 14:5). The Word means Supreme or Mighty One.

The Vessel

“The Earth is selected as the place where the program to redeem and restore fallen angels is performed. Earth is chosen because it is a living paradise that is both a hospital and a prison. A place where fallen angels cannot escape into the Universe and allow them to experience mortality - a glimpse of what awaits humanity if we do not finally change.”

Dodi

Shalom Beloved.

After the angels had planted life in the Universe, there was order and peace in the Universe. Shalom and love flourished, and everything worshipped the Supreme Creator. The Supreme Elohim loved the YHWH and would visit them and fellowship with them. The YHWH become the Supreme Elohim's friend, counsel, and family. Then the inconceivable happened.

An exalted angel named Lucifer, who was in charge of the music and worship in the set-apart place, left his domain and challenged the Elohim. He wanted to be in the Supreme Council and be their leader. Lucifer was rejected and thrown out of Heaven. Lucifer becomes Satan or the Great Dragon. Most of us have heard about what transpired after. Lucifer led a rebellion among the angels and took a third of them. Satan becomes their supreme leader and commander in chief.

War broke out in the Universe. Angels fought against each other for thousands of years, and the Universe was decimated. Billions of planets and stars and life forms were destroyed with horrific weapons.

I am afraid this is not a myth. It happened. We were all there, and we saw it, and the distant echo of those battles reappears in our stories, fables, and movies. I will come to this soon.

To cut a very long story short, the YHWH defeat Satan and his army are captured and imprisoned with him. The rebellious angels are put on trial and sentenced on Judgment Day. The summary of this trail is recorded in our books Yom YHWH and 21 Days of Enlightenment. I will not repeat it here. What is essential in our story is what happened after the Judgement because our human state is directly the result of that decision? The majority of fallen angels who had followed Lucifer were sentenced to lowly human bodies.

The Earth is selected as the place where the program to redeem and restore fallen angels is performed. Earth is chosen because it is a living paradise that is both a hospital and a prison. A place where fallen angels cannot escape into the Universe and allow them to experience mortality - a glimpse of what awaits humanity if we do not finally change.

I quote from our book Yom YHWH. I am sorry to bore you with these details again if you have read the book and remember this is all part of a love story.

“THE SENTENCE

The rebel angels and their agents who were deceived and follow haSatan were sentenced to serve 7000 years in lowly human vessels where they would be taught the elementary principles and virtues of life. The blind who had blindly followed Lucifer was given a second chance. They would become Homosapiens (Human Beings). Angels were sentenced to human bodies against their will. 7-13 Billion of their numbers were placed in a biological cue for reformation and restoration.

Initially, the fallen angels were confined in the heart of the Earth in a place called Sheol or Hades; then, after a time, they were released one by one into human bodies (at the point of conception) to observe their sentence. At death, they are released from their imprisonment (a form of parole) and sent for a time into the house of darkness and then released back into the light, depending on their deeds.

Fallen Angels are serving suspended death sentences until the Day of Judgment, where each angelic human will be either acquitted or condemned. They would come under the salvation program Yehoshua which the Supreme Council had created. Angels are born on Earth repeatedly to finish the unfinished work of realizing their divinity (immortality) and healing their fall.”

| Regeneration is the foundation of the system. What we intellectually call Transmigration and commonly term Reincarnation. |

My Beloved

It took me many years to understand it and unravel its workings; the fruit of that work is our book Regeneration. The History of this system, its Scripture foundation, and the Science research behind it is thoroughly covered in our book; I recommend you read it to learn the wonder of the system. I have decided to reproduce the introduction here, which briefly explains the system as I don't want you to think that this stuff is weird and has no bases in fact. I will come back to the angelic connection after this.

"It was during my mindset transition from Greek to Hebrew that I came to understand the Jewish concept of gilgul - in short, the Jewish idea of reincarnation. A similar understanding exists in Muslim texts. The idea here briefly is that life is a cycle of births and deaths, and every human passes through cycles of birth and death. We don't have to look far to see that this is a reality in nature and in the Universe. Indeed everything in the Universe and Nature is running and returning, ebbing and flowing, dying, and reborn anew.

According to Jewish Kabbalah, the soul is eternal and does not die when the body dies - very much the same belief that Christians have with the spirit. The difference here is that the Jews believe that the soul returns again and again until it arrives at its point of rectification, which they express in the term Tikun... This sounds like reincarnation, but the two concepts are not precisely the same. Reincarnation teaches that the human soul can descend or ascend to an upper or lower life-form, respectively, or it can be split into different parts (emotions, will, intellect, etc.) depending on what part of your soul requires repair. On the other hand, regeneration teaches that you can only return as a whole - as another human being. Technically this is called transmigration, which is the Jewish idea of ha'atoka.

The Jewish concept of reincarnation has a prestigious and elongated history of Rabbinic teaching that goes back over 3,000 years and has its origin in Genesis; it is not a new teaching. Transmigration means that a particular soul dies and then returns, intact in a subsequent lifetime in another body. In the discipline of Psychology, it is called metempsychosis. If you are a Christian, you may be thinking, "this is already sounding too 'Eastern' for me and is not in the Bible" - but as you will soon learn, not only is it in the Bible, but the Church fathers taught it for centuries!

It was Emperor Justinian who at the second Church Council of Constantinople in 553 C.E. that officially removed all references to regeneration from the New Testament. Regeneration was the belief system of the Christians before the Church began to change the system in the third century and later banned it from its tenure of belief in the fifth century C.E. It was an integral part of the teaching of Messiah Yeshua. His words were recorded in many books that were confiscated by the Catholic Church and hidden for 1800 years.

My Beloved

The secular and scientific evidence for regeneration is well established, creating a new academic discipline in many Universities that study the phenomena. Not surprisingly, Atheists and Agnostics find this belief much more palatable than heaven and hell's traditional idea. It is estimated that there are about one billion Atheists and Agnostics in the world.

The difficult-to-ignore fact is that ninety percent of the world's active religions believe in one form or another of reincarnation. Judaism, Hinduism, Buddhism, and Yahwehnism have reincarnation as their fundamental base doctrine and, to a lesser extent, the Muslim faith. The Sufi and other Muslim sects teach Rajat, literally going up and down in a cyclic fashion. Still, not a single mainstream Christian denomination today teaches regeneration as a belief. Yet, it is apparent everywhere in the Scriptures, but through tampering with the Word, many verses were changed or removed.

Another piece of interesting statistics states that sixty percent of the world population believes in some form of reincarnation. Today approximately 30 million Americans (one in four) believe in reincarnation, and the number continues to grow. Whether you consider yourself to be religious or an atheist, sooner or later, the truths that you will learn of in this book will knock at your door. How much better than you understand the original teaching (in Regeneration)?

Dodi

We know for a fact that an impressive amount of data has been collected by doctors, psychologists, and scientists on near-death experiences and past life memories, providing evidence that is clear and convincing to any open mind, showing that life continues after death. The internet is proliferated with stories of this kind, and it would be hard to ignore that the phenomenon exists... The standard Christian apologetic against past life memories and hypnotic regression argues that these are explainable as demonic possession by disembodied spirits. How easy it is to label as “demonic” everything that conflicts with our religious theology. I cannot imagine today where I would be if I had not conquered this mindset and decided to venture beyond the texts of Christianity, which had kept me in a cocoon for decades.

It took me three years to work out how this surprisingly simple system works and where it is heading in the epochs of time. I searched for every available teaching on the subject and combed the Scriptures for understanding. What I discovered changed my life!...

In a companion book titled The Breach Maker Series 800, there is a technical aspect to this teaching which is explained in this book; I explained the science behind regeneration in these words:

“WE WERE CREATED TO EXIST FOREVER. The reason is simple: At the core of our make-up, we are

My Beloved

ENERGY. The first law of thermodynamics states that energy is always conserved; it cannot be created or destroyed. In actuality, energy can be converted from one form into another, but it cannot be destroyed. Energy always seeks to remain in a constant, and that constant is EXISTENCE. We were created in the beginning to EXIST FOREVER because the essence of our being is taken from “the Eternal,” Who has neither beginning nor end. We are an offshoot of the Creator, taken from the source that is ever constant, non-changing, and perpetual - therefore, it is impossible for us to cease at death. Death is not to be feared but embraced as a natural part of living. All life is cyclic, and death is a natural part of that cycle.

Essentially what I am saying is that death is not real; it is a passing moment in a transition. We are already IMMORTAL BEINGS. If you can grasp this fundamental truth, then you will realize “WHAT you are” (Notice I did not say “who you are”). What you are is PURE INDESTRUCTIBLE ENERGY! At the micro atomic level, we are atoms and electrons that are constantly pulsating or vibrating at a frequency we call VISIBLE LIFE or what I have termed CORPOREAL ENERGY - bodily energy. Essentially we are sound waves pulsating at a constant waveform that becomes the likeness or expression of what we see in this natural world. For example, the waves we see in the ocean are, in fact, waves of energy that are pulsating through the water at a particular frequency. We cannot see the energy that is moving through the water, but we know that with certain scientific instruments, it is measurable and that it is just as real as the physical expression itself. So are we!”

Energy is always conserved. When a physical object burns or rots, the energy, or energy configuration, or information contained in that physical object is not destroyed, it merely passes on to another form. A soul is life and energy; as the Torah states, “(God) breathed into his nostrils a nishmatchaim (living soul)” (Genesis 2:7). What had been for me an idea or concept is now an indisputable law of nature - the Law of Regeneration. A law that I can clearly see governing all human and animal life on Earth. According to this law, we are already immortal beings with a long history of regeneration.”

The primary goal of the system is to prepare us for re-instruction into the Universe. That is if we pass the 21 tests. I hope you do not think this Earth is home sweet home because it is not.

A final quote from our book Yom YHWH on this essential aspect of the system.

“THE TESTS

In the probation, angels are required to pass 21 tests to regain their freedom to roam the Universe at the end of the Age - 7000 years.

My Beloved

If we fail one level, we are retested again until we pass. As such, we are given a hundred plus lifetimes to pass every aspect of the test. The tests are not designed to fail us but to prepare us for a YHWH's Kingdom.

Thus, we are here to learn what it means to love unconditionally, to value others better than ourselves, to share our blessings, to forgive and not remember, to lead without laws, to trust others, to learn our responsibilities, to learn our obligations, to acquire the virtues and values of life and many other such good things.

All of which can be summarized in the word FEEL.

Feeling is what makes us god-like, and god sent! In the image of the divine, we are the closest to the Creator when we dwell and move in feeling. Conversely, we are the furthest from Him when we are devoid of feeling. We have only to look at the human monsters in history, and we will see what kind of World we will have when feeling is absent - death and destruction!

Heaven is not our final destination. The Universe is our destination, and until we learn again how to feel, we will not be ready or worthy of this great reward prepared for us by our loving and forgiving Creator Father/Mother.

Dodi

There are TWENTY-ONE TESTS we must all pass in order to regain our freedom.

The tests are arranged in the order of their levels, (from the lowest level to the highest level):

1. The test of self-control (in the face of fear and anger).
2. The test of obedience (to one's peers and authorities).
3. The test of faithfulness (to one's calling and country).
4. The test of humility (in the face of failure and shame).
5. The test of lack (of the necessities of this World).
6. The test of failure (of one's objectives and goals).
7. The test of success (of one's targets and goals).
8. The test of abundance (of wealth and money).
9. The test of religion (of faith and understanding Eloah).
10. The test of the family (of responsibility and commitment).
11. The test of marriage (of care and love of another person).
12. The test of celibacy (of silence and to love oneself).
13. The test of courage (in the face of injustice and inequality).
14. The test of forgiveness (of other people and things).
15. The test of unconditional love (of people).
16. The test of silence (of trust and honor).

My Beloved

17. The test of guardianship (of the wellbeing of the Earth).
18. The test of knowledge (of truth and enlightenment).
19. The test of power (of authority and leadership).
20. The test of kingsmanship (of succession and dynasty).
21. The test of godship (of ruling in the Universe).

THE EXAMINATION

The exam is called Lifetimes. A human being is given more than 100 lifetimes to complete the exam, and some angles more than ten just to pass one level. If we fail at one level, we return to re-sit the test at that level, and it is never fun to re-sit.

Once we pass that level, we are excused from having to sit that part of the test again, but it does not mean one won't experience the "testing" of that level anymore in other lifetimes; the difference is we will instinctively overcome the trials because it has become part of our nature to overcome.

Initially, each level was tested at one per lifetime, but as time progressed, the levels have become intermingled so that in one lifetime, we can be tested for seven levels. It all depends on one's character and personality. Even after one has passed all the advanced levels (the last seven tests), one must still return to Earth to complete the time because heaven is not the prize.

Dodi

Heaven is a cosmic station where angels will go to be reassigned after death but not to remain. Heaven is also the control and monitoring center for the program.

THE PRIZE

The prize is to regain our esteemed title to be called MALAKIM and regain our FREEDOM TO TRAVEL THE UNIVERSE. The graduation ceremony will be here on Earth. The Great Banquet called the Lambs Supper. The Lambs Supper will be in the New Yerushalem with YHWH and all the Prophets, Priests, Teachers, and the righteous of the ages. It will be a time of great rejoicing when the fallen Sons of Eloah regain their right to be called Malakim.

In the 1000 year reign of YHWH, we will be retaught the secrets, laws, and maps of the Universe. We will no longer be required to pass any tests and shall remember our former experiences that have made our iron-strong character that will never be deceived or tested again. We will be trained during the Millennium for ruling in the Universe, some serving on different Councils and as rulers in planets managing civilizations and new colonies. There are countless paradises and untold experiences in the Universe waiting for us at the completion of the Age.

There are new worlds to discover, worlds of unimaginable beauty, scenery that will take our breath away, marvels that will confound our intellect, creations that will astound us, and experiences that will melt our hearts out. Nothing of Earth can ever be compared to the gift of the Universe.”

My Beloved

Suppose someone would ask me what proof do you have that what you say is true. My answer; the proof is the unlimited Universe that is before us, our senseless mortality, the regeneration stories that are in every culture and religion, the people of Yisra’el, and the Written Torah of Moshe. It took me over 30 years to connect everything together in many books, and I confess I am nothing but a mouthpiece of Elohim’s Enlightenment program. Besides, this information is not new; many others before me have received this knowledge and taught in it in some form or type, whether it was by way of a holy book, a philosophy, and work of antiquity, a story, a legend, and a dream. Pieces of our history are found in every culture, people, and nation's knowledge base and now appear in our movies, plays, songs, etc. It is time we remember.

You see, everything is all about relationship and the love and romance that ensues from it. This planet is like a lover’s chamber in which our lover has locked us away for a time because we have rebelled against Him and everything He stands for. Elohim wants us to learn humility, to love others, and to live in peace. All of which comes from the divinity of a relationship.

Dodi My Beloved

Love & Romance Elohim

Here is an extract from the book.

"Before us, the Supreme had no other intelligence to share His joy with His creation, only Himself, but now before His Almighty presence stood a beautiful being in the likeness of a man, timid and meek. Uncertain of how he appeared, he looked around? Elohim threw His arms around him and said; DODI! דודי"

Am I Dodi? He asked in bewilderment. For the very first time, the Creator was lost for a name. He named all the galaxies, planets, forces, and phenomena in the Universe, yet He did not know what to call His first intelligent creation. So He began by calling him Dodi until such a time that He discovered his innate character then He so named him, but that uncertainty was not repeated in His subsequent creations. He named them all as is His inalienable right. Dodi thus later became Yahu, or Yah, whom we understand is Yeshua (Jesus)."
