

PART ONE

I HAVE A DREAM. We stand at a pivotal moment in human history, where monumental change is not just possible but inevitable. Change begins with a DREAM. Martin Luther King Jr. immortalized this truth with his iconic words, "I have a dream," articulating a vision that reshaped history. Despite America's constitutional promise that all men are created equal, racial segregation remained legally enforced in the 1960s—nearly a century after slavery was abolished in 1865. King's dream ignited a powerful movement, uniting black and white activists in the fight for freedom. This dream inspired countless visionaries who defied the odds and transformed society's very foundations. Today, we are also called to a new dream—to embrace inspiration and achieve the extraordinary. My dream aligns with Elohim's dream for humanity: a world united in justice, peace, and prosperity for all. This is YHWH's dream that was given to me:

- I have a dream that every child in the world has a mummy and daddy.
- I have a dream that every woman in the world has a man who would just love her to bits.
- I have a dream that every man in the world had a Proverbs 31 woman.
- I have a dream that there were no children selling things on the street.
- I have a dream that there were no cardboard houses where families sleep.
- I have a dream that there were no people looking for things from a rubbish dump to live.
- I have a dream that there were no old people foraging through the trash for something to eat.
- I have a dream that girls were not forced into prostitution and boys into sweatshops.
- I have a dream that a man would never have to beg for a job to feed his family.
- I have a dream that politicians would stop making promises that they cannot keep.
- I have a dream lawyers would stop exploiting loopholes in the law to line their pockets.
- I have a dream doctors would stop using their gifts for monetary gain.
- I have a dream policeman would go after the real crooks in white-collar suits.
- I have a dream bankers would stop charging interest for loans.
- I have a dream where capital is available to all who have a vision.
- I have a dream that every family has a piece of land they call home that cannot be mortgaged.
- I have a dream that every schoolboy and girl has a free meal to eat.
- I have a dream every family has a paid-up holiday annually in a five-star resort.
- I have a dream Pastors would tell their flock that we all go to heaven and that hell is for very bad.
- I have a dream the Mullahs would tell their people that their enemy is the devil and not Israel.
- I have a dream the Rabbis would tell their congregations that Ishmael and Isaac are family.
- I have a dream that the Messiah to come is neither Jewish nor Arabic.
- I have a dream black men and white men would stop eyeing each other through the barrel of a gun.
- I have a dream rich people would realize that they are just passing through.
- I have a dream that education and medicine are free for everyone.
- I have a dream that all our prisons would be reformed schools.
- I have a dream that the United Nations would outlaw war and weapons globally.
- I have a dream that nations would turn their weapons into plows and picks.
- I have a dream that countries would eliminate cash to starve the drug dealers.
- I have a dream that scientists would stop tampering with our DNA.
- I have a dream that scientists would stop experiments on animals.
- I have a dream farmers would stop planting genetically modified seeds.

PART TWO

- I have a dream carpenters would stop buying timber to save our trees.
- I have a dream industry would stop raping and polluting the sea.
- I have a dream that AI machines do the work of laborers in a factory.
- I have a dream that AI machines clean our streets and homes.
- I have a dream a mother could get all the groceries that her family needs.
- I have a dream a father had all the time he needed to teach his family.
- I have a dream that people spend their time learning and inventing things.
- I have a dream reporters would only report good news.
- I have a dream that processed sugar is classified as a poison.
- I have a dream that sugary drinks are permanently banned from schools and supermarkets.
- I have a dream that nutritious food is cheap and junk food expensive.
- I have a dream that our scientists reveal that the cure for all diseases is proper nutrition and exercise.
- I have a dream the stars are in the sky and not in magazines.
- I have a dream that space was a national park for holidays and stargazers.
- I have a dream that history was absent of secrets and conspiracies.
- I have a dream that old people are respected and loved until they fall asleep.
- I have a dream that animals have the right of way on our roads.
- I have a dream where cows and sheep are our pets and not our meat.
- I have a dream where energy is free and abundant.
- I have a dream that gold and silver were abundant in our streets.
- I have a dream that diamonds are cheap and plastic pearls are rare and expensive.
- I have a dream that you and I are free and living in this dream.

The consequence of rejecting the dream is the emergence of a nightmare. A nightmare is merely another form of a dream, and even in its most intense moments, you eventually wake up. Yet, if we stubbornly cling to arrogance, pride, and folly, this is the reality we will inevitably confront. This is the World in which Satan and his elite envision for humanity—a path from which there is no return. Following it will ultimately lead to the destruction of the Earth.

I HAVE A NIGHTMARE

- I dreamt of a world where millions of human beings are kept in cages and fed like pigs.
- I dreamt of a world where millions of species are extinct and exist only in libraries.
- I dreamt of a world where the air is filtered so that people can breathe.
- I dreamt of a world where the rain is acid and rivers are cleaned so that people can drink.
- I dreamt of a world where the sea and the oceans were black and filled with debris.
- I dreamt of a world where the trees are a protected species, sheltered in canopies.
- I dreamt of a world where our seeds and crops can no longer resist disease.
- I dreamt of a world where the food supply is what we use to feed the pigs.
- I dreamt of a world where there are incurable diseases and poverty of extreme.
- I dreamt of a world where the police and Secret Service had unlimited power to search and seize.
- I dreamt of a world where elections are rigged and there is no peace.
- I dreamt of a world where you could buy stocks and bonds and options for things that do not exist.
- I dreamt of a world where a super machine had eyes and ears that pierced.

PART THREE

- I dreamt of a world where technology thrives on controlling people's lives.
- I dreamt of a world where races are engineered and programmed for obedience.
- I dreamt of a world where information and the news are programmed to lull the masses.
- I dreamt of a world where there are extermination camps for the elderly, the diseased, and the resistance, too.
- I dreamt of a world where to kill is for sport and sport is to kill.
- I dreamt of a world where all resources are controlled by banks and mega-corporations owned by a few.
- I dreamt of a world where human beings work seven days a week and 10 hours a day.
- I dreamt of a world where nuclear and atomic energy is still powering our cities and homes.
- I dreamt of a world where fossil fuel still powers our transport.
- I dreamt of a world where education is indoctrination and higher learning is available only to the elect.
- I dreamt of a world where a man could be a woman and a woman can be a man.
- I dreamt of a world where humans are part animal and part machine.
- I dreamt of a world where black is white and white is black.
- I dreamt of a world where the elite had patents and copyrights on the DNA of humans, animals, fish, and all seeds.
- I dreamt of a world where machines fight wars of resistance and pestilence.
- I dreamt of a world where competition exists only in the arena, and the arena is death.
- I dreamt of a world where ordinary people live to 63 and extraordinary people live to 133.
- I dreamt of a world where alcohol, drugs, and cigarettes are available to minors.
- I dreamt of a world where electronic money is accessed through a chip in the head.
- I dreamt of a world where usury chains people for life, and no one is free.
- I dreamt of a world where a man's life and his seed are a financial bond.
- I dreamt of a world where human beings are freely sold and bought on the internet.
- I dreamt of a world where races, cultures, and traditions are in museums.
- I dreamt of a world where cargo planes carry the masses, and super airplanes are the elite.
- I dreamt of a world where cities are bigger and higher than ever, encased in tall concrete walls.
- I dreamt of a world where machines assembled buildings and maxed for security.
- I dreamt of a world where space is an adventure ground for the very elite.
- I dreamt of a world where vulgarity and nudity are endemic cancers.
- I dreamt of a world where sex, drugs, guns, and bombs are in every view.
- I dreamt of a world where laws are many and freedoms are few.
- I dreamt of a world where the web is highly toxic and viral to the hilt.
- I dreamt of a world where science has become science fiction.
- I dreamt of a world where God is unknown and evolution is God.
- I dreamt of a world where man is king, and every man is a servant of a king.
- I dreamt of a world where fathers are a dying species, and mothers are surrogates.
- I dreamt of a world where religion is one and one man is the head.
- I dreamt of a world where the system provides and man serves the system.
- I dreamt of a world where there is a one-world government and police force.
- I dreamt of a world where God got so grieved that He let the Sun irradiate and eradicate humanity.